

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Yesterday was Friday the 13th, but it was almost a perfect autumn day.

Tom Underwood, Jim West and Wesley Soyars, all on their first trip, did fine work and were always ready when called upon.

At Olmstead several old Confederates were met who were still talking about the royal reception given the Orphans' Brigade last month.

The Elkton Times has suspended publication in order to adjust certain differences between the partners, H. R. Roper and Geo. S. Weathers.

Judge Bush has a list of appointments in Trigg county three days of next week, two days of the time Congressman Barkley will be with him.

It is planned to have the successor of the late Joseph H. Kastle, superior of the U. of K. Experiment Station, head of all the departments of the College of Agriculture.

Sulphur, Ky., was partly swept by fire that originated in the cupola of the Baptist church there yesterday afternoon. The loss is estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000.

The crowd was a little too large for good work, as it was at times unwieldy and strung out along many miles of road. Twenty cars with about 60 good boosters can do the best work.

Remarriage of divorced persons whose mates still live was opposed in a proposed change in the canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church, discussed at length at the St. Louis convention.

The October crop report issued by Commissioner of Agriculture Mat S. Cohen, chronicles a remarkably good tobacco crop, with livestock and pastures in generally good condition and the potato crop below average.

Everywhere the Boosters went they found a most kindly feeling towards Hopkinsville. All of the business men found some of their patrons, even in the remote towns visited. These visits to the surrounding towns are doing great good. Let's keep them up until all adjoining counties have been visited.

At Indianapolis, where he was greeted by large crowds, President Wilson, speaking chiefly on good roads, declared in reply to the Republican charge that the Democratic party is a sensational party that "any man who revives the issue of sectionalism in this country is unworthy of the confidence of the nation."

Our sister towns of Russellville and Elkton did the handsome thing and not a particle of jealousy was shown. The speakers were careful to explain that the object was not to take trade from local stores, but to tell about our wholesale markets that were being built up for the surrounding country.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS

Nothing of Much Importance Is Doing in Circuit Court.

The grand jury finished its work Wednesday and adjourned after returning another list of indictments.

The most important was the one against Lyman G. Lucas for murder in killing Jas. Z. Culwell Sept. 30. A second indictment charges Lucas with shooting at his wife without wounding.

Sonny Elam is indicted for arson and Henry Major and Miles McKnight with stealing from a common carrier.

In the murder case of Otho Childs and Sara Belle McReynolds, charged with killing Tom Yancey, Jan. 1, 1916, the jury gave Childs 3½ years and acquitted the woman.

In the case of Jas. Gray vs. City of Hopkinsville and Hiram Smith, former councilman, the jury gave plaintiff $50.

There are several of these similar cases and another was on trial yesterday.

Twenty-nine cars fitted with Boosters pulled out at seven o'clock Thursday morning on a run of 117 miles through South Christian, Todd and Logan counties. There were more than 100 men in the party.

The first stop was at Pembroke at the early hour of 7:45, where H. H. Abernathy and T. C. Underwood spoke to 100 people of the early risers. S. A. Powell had prepared the Opera House but the stop was too brief to leave the cars.

The weather was fine and a short run brought them to Trenton, where Mayor Gaines had brought together a crowd of 400. Speeches were made there by H. H. Abernathy, Chas. M. Meacham W. R. Howell and W. O. Soyars, after which Mayor Gaines told them how glad Trenton was to have the visitors present. At this point young Soyars made his maiden speech as a booster and instantly made good. After that he was shoved to the front as one of the regular and heavy workers.

Guthrie was reached by a wide detour owing to a broken-up road but a big crowd estimated at 500 was waiting and was addressed by Clark, Underwood, Soyars and Howell.

The next stop was at Hadensville where Jesse Evans had gathered a crowd of 75, including many ladies, and R. E. Cooper made the only speech during the brief stop. On to Allensville was a quick run and here a cordial welcome was given. At least 500 people were assembled and the speakers were Clark, Abernathy, Meacham and Cooper. Rev. Mr. Rowe concluded the speaking, telling how glad Allensville was to receive a call from Hopkinsville business men.

Olmstead was reached just before noon and the crowd of 100 or more people were found assembled on the campus of the beautiful new school building and speeches were made by Clark, Meacham and Jas. West.

At the little station of Ferguson about 50 people were present and L. E. Foster made the only speech.

The next stop was Cave Spring and here the only mix-up of the entire trip occurred. A part of the crowd took the wrong road and only six cars got to the place where 200 people were waiting. Clark, West and Cooper did the speaking.

At Russellville all got together again, and found 500 or 600 people on the public square, including the students from Bethel Male College. "Some spoke while others went and got dinner. The Boosters were met by a brass band and welcomed by Judge Edwards in a cordial speech. The addresses were made by Clark, West, Underwood, Soyars, Fowler and Howell.

Only a part of the crowd made the 12-mile trip to Lewisburg, beyond Russellville. Two new cars joined the party here and some returned home from Russellville.

The Lewisburg people had prepared one of the best receptions of the day and at least 500 people had waited patiently an hour's delay. The Boosters were received with a glad hand. Little girls with baskets of flowers met the cars and furnished everybody with button-hole bouquets. A young man whose name the Kentuckian representative failed to learn delivered a nice welcome address when Master of Ceremonies Clark introduced as the speakers Underwood, Cooper and Soyars, all of whom made good talks.

Leaving Russellville a part of the crowd led by W. R. Howell made the Daysville appointment at 5:30 p. m., where Col. Howell made a speech to 75 people and made an extra stop at Fairview and spoke to another crowd of 75 that insisted on being boosted.

The main party after making Lewisburg returned to Russellville and making good time over the fine new pike reached Gordonsville for a night meeting. Here was gathered about 100 people at the Edwards store, though many had left. A good little meeting was held with Meacham and Abernathy doing the talking. Rev. Wm. Goff then took the stand and made a fine talk, thanking the boosters for coming and praising Hopkinsville and her people.

The main crowd stopped briefly at Daysville, where Howell had spoken early in the evening.

The last point, Elkton, was reached at 7 p. m., and the crowd here was very fine. On the beautiful public square, 700 or 800 people were congregated. Claude Clark started the ball to rolling and Lucian Lindsay made an address of welcome. Those who spoke for the Boosters were Meacham, Abernathy, West and Underwood. This meeting was a splendid finale to a day of strenuous exertion.

At many of the stops the "Band" put on musical numbers and Frank Southall did some minstrel stunts that kept everybody in a good humor.

The run from Elkton home was without incident. The crowd virtually broke up and the cars came in as they, chose the last getting home about ten o'clock.

It was a great trip, too much for one day, but every point billed was made and the thousands of people spoken to appeared to admire the pluck of Hopkinsville's business men who would undertake so much in one day.

INTEREST IS INCREASING

Revival at Cumberland Presbyterian Church Being Largely Attended.

The revival at the Cumberland Presbyterian church continues to grow in interest from time to time. Wednesday night Rev. Courtner spoke to a much larger audience than on Tuesday night. The singing was very much improved.

Notwithstanding the various attractions in the city Thursday night, the attendance was the largest since the beginning of the revival.

Dr. Courtner's subject for the evening was "The World and the Church." He used as a scripture lesson I Kings 10 1-13, taking the visit of the queen of Sheba to Solomon as the basis of his subject. Comparing the queen to the world and Solomon to the church. He spoke at length of the queen's visit from a geographical and a financial standpoint. He spoke of some of the hardships the queen underwent in reaching Solomon that she might ask him many hard questions.

Dr. Courtner is a very earnest speaker and seemingly has at his command at all times such passages of Scripture as will confirm his statements, quoting them from memory and always telling his congregation where the passage quoted may be found.

His subject for last night was "Heartfelt Religion," or is it possible to know for a certainty that you are truly regenerated?

So far Dr. Courtner has made no propositions for membership and his remarks have been confined more especially to the church.

ITALIANS CREEP CLOSE TO TRIEST

Vantage Points and 1,800 More Prisoners Taken In Attacks on Galicia.

RUMANIANS HARD PUSHED

By Germans Who Have Massed Heavy Bodies Against Them.

London, Oct. 13.—Another step forward in their quest of Triest has been made by the Italians in the region of south Gorizia, additional points of vantage to their progress having been captured and 1,771 more made prisoners.

In this region, which is about 75 miles northwest of Triest and in the Julian Alps to the east, the Italians from Aug. 1 to the present, report that they have captured 3,881 Austrians. On the Carso plateau heavy Austrian attacks against the positions recently taken by the Italians have been repulsed.

Along the entire Transylvania front the Rumanians are still in retreat, and in the north are also beginning to fall back before the troops of the Teutonic allies, according to Berlin. Bucharest says, however, that attacks at various points on their northern and northwestern front have been repulsed.

The British troops have reached the outskirts of the important town of Seres, in Greek Macedonia, north of Lake Thakos, having driven in their opponents from the outlying districts. London reports that the town is strongly held by the Teutonic forces. Westward the village of Brod, which lies in Serbia southeast of Monastir, has been captured by the Serbians. Both Berlin and Sofia report the repulse of attacks along the Cerna river and on both sides of the Vardar.

That the British have gained some additional ground north of Thessalonica, south of the Aeneas river in France, and on the Star-Guelecourt line is indicated in the Berlin official communication which says British attacks here failed, "for the most part" before the German curtain of fire. West of Sully-Hailisel the French have made a further advance.

South of the Somme, violent artillery duels are in progress, especially between Genermont and Chavennes. In the town of Ablaincourt the Germans and French are engaged in hand to hand fighting.

KEEP HOGS IN GOOD CONDITION.

On account of the danger of hogs becoming infected with cholera, it is of prime importance to observe all the sanitary laws.

Let the hogs be kept free of worms and lice, and give them lime, salt, charcoal, etc., as a conditioner.

All the necessary ingredients for making a good conditioner or worm eradicator may be had at the drug stores. Worm seed is very inexpensive and will do the work.

Keep the hogs in good condition, and they will be better able to fight off the cholera germ.

There is no cure for hog cholera.

A Master Stroke.

And now they have gotten Former President Taft going around making the charge that the eight-hour law is a force bill. It was a master stroke by a master hand, and saved the country great loss and suffering.

And Made Him Afraid In Advance To Sink The Lusitania.

Charles E. Hughes in his address at Phoenix Hill Park, Louisville, devoted his time to an attack on the Democratic tariff, the Mexican policy, the Lusitania matter and the Adamson eight-hour law. He was only one question, and that brought out his reference to the sinking of the Lusitania. He said: "I would have had the State Department equipped so as to command the respect of the world at the outset, and next I would have so conducted affairs in Mexico as to show that our words meant peace and good will, and the protection at all events of the lives and property of American citizens. And next when I said 'strict accountability' every nation would have known that that was meant. And further, when notice was published with respect to the action threatened, I would have made it known in terms unequivocal and unmistakable, that we should not tolerate a continuance of friendly relations through the ordinary diplomatic channels if that action were taken—and the Lusitania, sir, would never have been sunk."

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. FRANK KNOBL, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. YOST, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. CLEMENTINA DUESSING, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice.—It will be confidential.

HOW TO AID INJURED PERSONS

Rules That Are Worth Admitting to the Scrap Book or Keeping Always in the Memory.

The patient should be made as comfortable as possible in a safe place. He should be insured plenty of fresh air.

Do not try to do too much; keep cool.

Do not let the injured person know it, if his condition is serious.

Hot coffee or hot tea, or even hot water, is a better stimulant than whisky. In summer a glass of cold water may be best. Remember there is some shock with even the slightest injury.

If the patient vomits, turn him to one side; keep the head low.

Supply external heat if the patient is cold and clammy.

Clothing should be cut away. Do not tear or pull it off.

Do not touch an open wound with the fingers or with anything not surgically clean.

Never wash away blood clots; bind them up. Open and bleeding wounds should be covered with a piece of sterile gauze or freshly laundered linen.

When a physician's services are apparently needed, promptness in getting one there is the most important first-aid measure.—Dr. J. J. Murphy, Minnesota.

DESERVED TO KEEP HIS LIFE

Hunted Bear Showed Much Cleverness in Making His Escape When Hard Pressed by Pursuer.

The bear is a terrible enemy, and also an alarmingly agile one. An English sportsman tells of a splendid escape made by one of these creatures in India.

This bear, which had been hard pressed, galloped into a nullah, a very sharp, deep cut, more like a narrow chasm than a ravine. Down this, along the bottom of it, he raced, followed by a man on a swift horse.

The banks on each side overhanging the bear were six feet or more in height. Suddenly the creature turned a sharp corner, which hid him from view. Then, by a tremendous effort, he scaled the bank and gained the top. He turned short around, leaped the entire width of the nullah, and landed safely on the other side, clearing both horse and rider as he jumped, save for the man's pith helmet which he knocked off. He had escaped by a narrow margin.

A Woman's Leisure.

We are caught between an old tradition of married life, which insists that a woman's time is fully occupied, and the new facts of married life, which bely the tradition. If we could forget the tradition and look at the facts, our whole attitude would change. As it is, this large margin of time, continually and increasingly ours, is as it were theoretically nonexistent. It has not yet received official recognition. Therefore, being treated as something contingent and accidental instead of something expected and calculable, it has no dignity, no coherence in its uses. It is like the reading done in a doctor's office while we wait. We are like children who receive frequent but undesirable gifts of pocket-money, yet are given no stated allowance. The money is spent as it comes—casually, without special plan. It is the rare child who will make such accidental fortune serve any large ends. So it has been with women's time. Having no theoretic leisure and much actual leisure, they have filled it with whatever chances to importune most insistently.—Atlantic Monthly.

All the Same.

One—Of course, they are nice to have, but they are a lot of trouble just the same.

Two (with a sigh)—Yes, they are.

One—Cost a bunch of money, too.

Two—You're right—they do.

One—Tisn't the first expense one minis—but the upkeep is fierce.

Two—Don't I know it?

One—Always something wrong with the blamed things and when there is nobody but a specialist can tell what it is.

Two—That's true.

One—Still, after you've had one or two of them you couldn't get along without them.

Two (brightening)—That's what I think. People envy you, too.

One—Yes, still it's an endless worry keeping them looking trim and shining. And gasoline and tires are going up—

Two—Gasoline and tires! Great heavens, man! I thought you were talking about babies!—Judge.

Bishop Dudley's Story.

The Lexington Herald retells the story "first recounted by Bishop Dudley, of sainted memory, of the prayer of the river captain for a family which had lost its all during one of the floods of the Mississippi river. As Bishop Dudley recounted the incident a meeting was held to take up a collection for the destitute family. An old-time captain of a Mississippi steamer was called upon to pray. He prayed:

"Oh, Lord, we beg you care for this destitute family; Lord, send them clothes to cover them, and provisions to feed them; send them a barrel of flour, and a barrel of meal, and a barrel of potatoes, and a barrel of onions, and a barrel of salt, and a barrel of pepper. Oh, shucks, Lord, that's too blame much pepper!"

Patient From Webster.

H. B. Baker, of Webster county, died at the Western State Hospital Wednesday night of cerebral hemorrhage and paralysis, aged 68 years. He was received here about a month ago. The body was interred in the hospital burying ground.

TEACHERS' SALARIES AFFECTED.

Supt. Foster states that the salaries of the rural teachers of Christian county will be so large this year as they were last year. He gives three reasons for this reduction, namely:

"First there was a falling off in the rural census in this county this year amounting to 291. This loss being figured at $5.10 per capita, the state per capita, makes a total loss of $1,484.10. The state per capita has been reduced 15c per pupil. In Christian county it is 16c lower than last year.

Second, there are in the rural districts outside of Hopkinsville and the graded schools this year 7,711 children of school age. This number multiplied by 16c, the decrease, makes a loss of $1,233.76. There is also a loss in the dog tax of $82.96. The Department of Education furnished the County Board of Education $2,799.82 less than year.

Third, last year the County Board of Education supplemented the teachers' salaries, while this year with the extra burden of the high school salaries it does not feel able to make a supplement, therefore, the money received from the State Treasurer through the State Department of Education must pay the salaries this year. This statement shows conclusively that this falling off is due to conditions over which the County Superintendent and the County Board of Education have no control.

The check from the State this year will be $5,750.20 each installment and 147 teachers must be paid a month's salary out of this amount, therefore, it is evident that if all the teachers had the same qualifications this would make about $39.00 for each teacher, but the salaries vary in proportion to the attendance and the qualifications of the teacher, consequently, some will get more and some will get less than this amount.

BOOSTERS VISIT PEMBROKE.

A live, jolly bunch of Hopkinsville business men, on a boosting trip to Todd and Logan counties, stopped in Pembroke for half an hour Thursday morning. Owing to the early hour, there was not a large crowd to greet the visitors, but they were given the glad hand by those who were out.

Circuit Clerk C. R. Clark was the master of ceremonies, and he introduced Messrs. H. H. Abernathy and T. C. Underwood, who made short speeches. The speakers made it clear that they were not trying to pull business from Pembroke. Each urged that citizens of Pembroke buy from their home merchants wherever and whenever possible. When it is necessary to go out of town to make purchases, then an invitation is always extended to come to Hopkinsville. Mr. Abernathy made a statement that we hope every one present understood, and that was: "I would rather have the cheapest article to be had in the poorest store in Pembroke than to have the finest article that can be purchased from a mail order house." That is indeed the proper sentiment, and the sooner the people of Pembroke, Hopkinsville and every other town realize this, the sooner will a full measure of prosperity come to the local merchants.

Pembroke was glad to have the boosters from her neighboring city, even if the hour was early and their stay brief. We hope they will come again, at any time. They should feel as much at home here as they do in Hopkinsville, for, as some of the gentlemen suggested, we are both sons of the same old mother, Christian county.—Pembroke Journal.

Kingstonian Escaped.

Boston, Oct. 13.—The British steamer Kingstonian, reported as among those torpedoed by a German submarine off Nantucket last Sunday, is safe in port, according to word received Thursday by John M. Thomas, of this city, local manager of the Leyland line, which owns the steamer. Mr. Thomas said his information showed that the Kingstonian was thousands of miles from Nantucket last Sunday.

Health for Family.

A man said only the other day: "The next house that I build is going to have a sun parlor no matter if we have to leave out everything else on the ground floor but the kitchen!"

Slightly Mixed.

The distinguished young man paced wildly across the floor. "Miss Merrill, that beautiful young lady that I was engaged to, has asked to have her letters returned," he said. "Oh, well, cheer up, don't take it so hard," his friend said. "I suppose you have sent them?" "Ah, no, that is the trouble," said the wild-eyed man. "I made a mistake and sent the letters from another girl!"

Women Live Longer.

Women on the average live a trifle more than three years longer than men, according to a set of tables published by Sam L. Rogers, director of the census bureau, showing the death rate and the ratio of expectation of life in New England states, New York state, New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan and the District of Columbia. The figures are the first of the sort ever prepared by the United States government and are similar to those compiled by the large insurance companies, except that they cover the entire population of the specified districts, and not only the risks selected through medical examination and otherwise.

According to the tabulations, the average expectation of life at birth for males is 49.9 years and for females 53.2 years. For white males the expectation is 50.2 years and for white females 53.6 years. For native white males the average is 50.6 years and for native white females 54.2 years. In the general figures the percentage is cut down because of the fact that negroes live on an average of fifteen years less than white persons.

Less Than a Month Left.

Less than four weeks remain before the election. Let them be weeks of ceaseless work for the Democratic ticket, that Kentucky will do her part toward continuing in power an administration that which has wrought so much good for the country. The old Commonwealth is naturally Democratic and there is never a doubt of the outcome when every Democrat does his duty. Now, more than ever in the history of the country that duty is most imperative. Don't fail to go to the polls and urge your neighbor to do likewise and we shall have four years of Wilson with all the benefits to the country that such a result means.

And All Pests.

FINE FLAVOR OF VEGETABLES

Improved or Impaired by Fertilizers Employed—Too Much Nitrogen Makes Strawberry Soft.

Aside from considerations of mellow soil and sufficient moisture, the flavor and other qualities of vegetables are improved or impaired by the fertilizers employed. The peculiar processes within the soil or within the plant itself which produce these conditions of flavor are difficult to understand, but it is a fact that varieties of fruits and vegetables will show such improvement under favorable conditions of fertilization as hardly to be recognized.

Hog manure used alone sometimes gives an unpleasant flavor to celery and root crops. It also blunts tobacco. An excess of phosphates helps to give tomatoes a sweeter flavor. Salt is very helpful to the quality of asparagus, onions and celery. It makes the potato in the soil active. It is used at the rate of 200 pounds to the acre.

Pigeon manure helps to develop melons of fine flavor. Beets grown on soil fertilized with poultry manure and ashes develop a fine, sweet flavor.

Poultry and barnyard manures improve the quality of onions. Fresh barnyard manure impairs the shipping qualities of strawberries. Too much nitrogen makes the fruit softer but unleached wood ashes with well-rotted manure improves the quality of the berries. An excess of nitrogen has a peculiar effect upon the Stone variety of tomatoes tending to make the blossoms drop. It also tends to make them sterile.

FOR SPRAYING APPLE TREES

Best Formula is Concentrated Lime Sulphur—Apply for Codling Moth About August First.

The best formulas for spraying apple trees and any other fruit trees except the peach, is concentrated lime sulphur at the strength of one to forty for apples and one to fifty for the other fruits, and two and a half pounds of arsenate of lead. The first spraying should be made just as the pink of the blossom shows. This should be followed by another application as the blossom petals are dropping. In about two weeks the trees should be sprayed again, and winter varieties of apples should have another application for the second brood of codling moth about the first of August.

All fruit trees except the peach should receive the first three applications. Plums should receive a spraying after that at intervals of two weeks, until within about a month of ripening time. No fruit should be sprayed within a month of ripening time, because sufficient time should be allowed for the removal of all traces of the spray material by the weather before the fruit is harvested.

GENERAL FARM NOTES

Spraying gets the clean fruit.

The garden can be a money-maker.

Remember that poultry respond according to the care taken of them.

If machinery displaces men and horses it demands more care than ever.

The balanced ration is highly important, but it takes a little gumption to balance it.

Every farmer should run an experiment station of his own if not more than a rod square plot.

A wheelbarrow, mowing machine, or farm wagon looks well in its proper place—but not in the front yard.

The farm garden can be made the most productive acre on the place. Have it rich, mellow and weedless.

It is about as bad for a farmer to spend too much money for buildings and farm equipment as it is for him to spend too little.

Pasteurization of cream for making butter is best accomplished at a temperature not lower than 103 degrees nor higher than 170.

No one can afford to have a doorway devoid of trees or shrubbery. If you sell your place will bring less for the lack of ornamentation.

MARRIAGE NOT THE WAY OUT

Working Girl May Find Her Lot Harder Than Ever When She Enters Wedlock.

One of the most serious obstacles to woman's advancement in industrial life is the general feeling on the part of the woman that it isn't going to be necessary to work for any great length of time, because the "knights" will soon be coming along, when she will have a home of her own, declares Detroit Journal.

"What's the use?" many a woman has said when it was suggested to her that she give more thought to her task. "The work is only temporary," so what is the use of bothering one's brain with thinking out details?"

The exaggerated expectations of girls as to the improvement of their lot when married in the matter of work is something wonderful. Society helps to accentuate this belief by society frowning on woman workers and insisting that they go to house-keeping and get out of the industrial grid.

Now a woman in "the lower walks of life," as one puts it, which means a woman who is one of a family with an income less than will support all the members on the wages of the father, cannot escape work by getting married.

With married life on a small income the necessity of work is more pressing than when single. For married life presupposes more than one stomach to be fed or one back to be clothed. In due time, ordinarily, there will be three, four or five mouths to be fed and backs to be clothed. Work? Most women know little about work until they are married.

So married life is not an escape from work. The woman who does not become a "housewife" instead of being simply a "help out," has missed her calling in getting married, just as she missed her calling when employed in store or factory or office in not becoming efficient.

GAINED FAME AS PUGILIST

John Broughton, English Fighter, Only Man Credited With Having Won Two Prize Distinctions.

John Broughton, alone among English professional pugilists, can claim the double distinction of an Abbey funeral and having had dedicated to him a poem by the poet laureate. It was in 1744 that Paul Whitehead published his "Gymnasia," or "Boxing Match," which he inscribed, "To the most pious and invincible Mr. John Broughton." As early as 1730 Broughton had achieved athletic distinction as the winner of Doggett's Coat and Badge.

The science of boxing owes much to Broughton. "He promulgated a 'code' for the guidance of the combatants and the satisfaction of the judges," writes Mr. Guy Nickalls. "His new rules were agreed upon by pugilists and approved of by the gentlemen on August 18, 1743, and lasted in perfect integrity until 1838, a period of nearly 100 years. He introduced science and humanity into what was up till then a barbarous sport, by not only inventing defensive guards, but also preventing a man being hit when he was down. He also introduced gloves or muffers for conducting mock combats or sparring matches." Broughton's patron was the duke of Cumberland, who made him a yeoman of the guard.

Quaint Raincoat.

When rain falls in tropical countries there is no mistake about it. The rain comes as if it meant to sweep away all such trifles as trees and bushes. A man who goes out in this deluge must protect himself, but he finds that a macintosh of the lightest kind has its disadvantages, for if it keeps the rain out, it also keeps the heat in.

The raincoat devised by the Mexicans is called a "chino," and is so porous that the heat of the body readily escapes, while owing to its construction it keeps the wearer dry. The chino is made of thumbless long, narrow strips of dried palm-leaf, one end of each strip being woven into a tight fabric and the rest falling loose. The wearer of this garment rustles as he walks, and the rain pattering upon it makes a pleasant sound. Arrived at the house, he takes off his palm-leaf hat, shakes it, and hangs it up to dry. Then he slips off his chino, shakes that also, and hangs it up. He himself is untouched by the rain, but the chino, as it hangs up, looks like a huge, damp, brown cassock. Surely this raincoat is the quaintest in the world.

Dog Is Truly Faithful.

That a dog is a most faithful animal was proved in Safford recently, says the Safford (Del.) correspondent of the Philadelphia Record.

The late Wilson W. Doncho for many years acted as yardmaster at the cannery of Greenbaum brothers in the pea-canning season, and every morning his little dog Sport accompanied him to his work when the whistle sounded and stayed with him throughout the day, stationing himself beside an electric light pole in the yard until the cannery closed for the night. Several days when Doncho was sick or absent Sport made the trip alone, but always found friends to share their dinners with him.

This year, when the whistle blew for the first time, Sport left home and went direct to the factory and continued to do so from day to day, refusing to leave his favorite resting place beside the pole.

MUST SPRAY AT RIGHT TIME

"Time and Tide Wait for No Man"—Little Later Won't Do, as Many Farmers Have Found.

There is an old saying that "time and tide wait for no man," and in no other line of work is this more true than in spraying. The time to spray will come and go, regardless of the man who is not prepared—and when it is gone, it is gone forever, so far as this season is concerned. A little later will not do, as many have found to their cost.

Bryan Only For a Day.

The grip that William Jennings Bryan holds on Kentucky is most remarkable and the desire to hear him comes from every section. In response to this desire the chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, Arthur B. Rouse, laid claim to his time, but it was so completely filled that the great commoner could be secured for only one day, October 19th, when he will speak from Franklin all along the line to Elizabethtown, where the last and principal speech of the day will be made and where great preparations to receive him are being arranged. The greatest platform orator of his day will not fail to thrill his hearers and make them more determined to keep Wilson on the guard.

Conscientious Scruples.

Will D. Oldham, a lawyer, was fined $10, plus costs of $3, and six hours in jail at Lexington, because of conscientious scruples that "forbade" his holding up his right hand to swear to a property return. For vindication of his position he relied on the Third commandment, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord, thy God, in vain," and the command given in the sermon on the Mount, "Swear not at all, neither by heaven, for it is God's throne; nor by the earth, for it is his footstool, by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great king, etc."

Arguments to Show Which Is Better, the Horse or Tractor?

Farm and Fireside says in an article about tractors:

"The final test in buying a tractor, of course, is, 'Will horses or a tractor do my work best?' Here are the chief advantages of each in the light of the best experience on both sides.

"This is a list of points in favor of horses:

"They have stood the test for centuries of useful service.

"Their feed can be grown on the farm, and they help raise it.

"They are self producing and give about twenty years of service.

"Their manure is a valuable farm by-product.

"They are intelligent and in some work may be directed simply by word without need of rein, thus saving the services and expense of one man.

"They can go through water, mud, timber, and over rough and hilly places with comparative ease.

"Though normally developing less than one horsepower, a horse can in an emergency, and for a short time, exert three or four horsepower.

"Here are some points in favor of tractors: Tractors satisfy the demand for power to pull heavy machinery such as large gang plows, corn pickers, and road machinery. This work is too hard for horses.

"Tractors can do belt work such as running ensilage cutters, grinding mills, and other high-speed machinery. This work cannot very well be done by horses.

"Tractors need not be rested in hot weather, and are not 'soft' in the spring when they are needed most.

"Tractors are not affected by flies, bees and sickness which may entirely upset and delay a season's work.

"Tractors require no fenced pasture land, nor expensive barns, nor harness. They need but a simple shed for storage.

"Tractors require no care, and likewise cause no expense for upkeep when idle.

"Tractors enable the hay, grain, and other crops to be fed to cattle, sheep, and swine, thus increasing the profits of the farm.

"Tractors cost less than $100 per horsepower, whereas good horses average about $150 per horsepower."

CHARACTER IN WOMEN'S HAIR

Golden and Red-Headed Ones Can Both Love and Hate Ardently, Says Writer.

Have you a head of midbrown tresses?

The majority of British girls are brown haired—the coloring is typical of our temperament, and shows a happy blending of our traits, a writer in London Answers observes.

The head generally rules the heart among women of this coloring, who are blessed with a good supply of "elbow grease" and common sense.

For vim and vivacity look to the curly-headed girl; her rippling locks are eloquent of vitality and energy more than any other kind of hair. This girl belongs to the "push and go" variety, and is not easily balked in her determination, and would never lose an opportunity of promotion through shyness or fear.

Next to her in energy comes the straight-haired, dark woman. She has not the vivacity of the woman with curls, but she has intensity, passion, and determination beyond other women, and is able to influence others.

Impulsive, warm-hearted, yet a trifle capricious is the woman possessing golden or red hair. She can both love and hate very ardently, but is not always sincere in either.

Very fair-haired damsels are apt to be rather colorless by nature as well as by coloring, but they make excellent business women, and are usually cool and collected in an emergency. Refinement and gentleness is always indicated by fine hair; coarse, heavy hair generally denotes a strong constitution and an obstinate disposition.

Disqualified by Wisdom.

The lawyer was examining him concerning his qualifications as a juror. "Have you ever served on a jury?" he asked.

"No, sir," answered the man. "I've been drawn a good many times, but I was always too smart to get caught on a jury."

"What's that, sir?" interrupted the judge, sternly. "Do you boast of your smartness in escaping jury duty?"

"No, your honor," said the man; "not at all. When I said I was too smart I meant that I was always excused because the lawyers thought I wasn't ignorant enough."—Exchange.

KNEW ALL ABOUT TUNNELING

Ancients Built Some Important Works
Many of Them Being Marvelously
Conceived and Executed.

While tunneling is among the most ancient of enterprises, yet more progress has been made in it the last century than in the twenty centuries which preceded it. It is now known that back in the semimythical days of the Theban kings the long tunnel into the mountain rock, expanding at a distance of 400 feet or so into some lofty chamber, was a common work of princes. The rock temples of Nubia, too, and of India show that in certain matters, at any rate, moderns may still learn from ancients. Then again in Algeria, Switzerland, wherever the Romans went, are to be found tunnels of all kinds and designed for all purposes, for roads and drains and water supplies. Pliny makes mention of one notable achievement, the greatest of its kind in his day, the great tunnel constructed for the drainage of Lake Fucino. It was by far the longest artificial tunnel in the world at that time. More than three and a half miles long, it was driven under Monte Salviano and required for its construction shafts of no less than 400 feet. Some 30,000 men were employed upon it for 11 years. From the time of the Romans until the latter end of the eighteenth century no great advance was made in tunneling methods. Old engravings of mining work in the early years of the seventeenth century show the pickaxe or hammer and chisel as still the chief tools employed. With the advent of the railway, however, tunneling became one of the grand necessities of construction, and progress was more rapid.

ONLY A MOUSE IN THE CREAM

The Butter Tasted Just as Good to the Woman, and She Didn't Recognize It.

Some years ago, when Thomas L. Calvert, chief inspector of the Ohio dairy and food department, was running a general store in a country town, a woman came into the store with a small quantity of butter which she wanted to sell.

"We made this for our own use, but we found that a mouse had run through the cream, so we decided to sell it," she said. "You know, it will make no difference just so the person who eats the butter does not know that the mouse was in the cream," she added.

Mr. Calvert bought the butter, padded it into a different shape and put it away in a cool place in the rear of the store. Two days later the woman came back to the store to buy some butter. Mr. Calvert sold her the butter he had bought from her. He had bought it for that very reason, intending to teach the woman a lesson. The next time the woman came to the store she told Mr. Calvert that the butter he had sold her was of fine quality, and she asked where he got it.

"It was what you sold me; you know, you said that it would make no difference if no one knew that the mouse ran through the cream," Mr. Calvert said.—Columbus (O.) Dispatch

Flour Is Explosive.

During the last ten years, about twenty explosions have occurred in cereal, flour and feed mills, with the loss of two million dollars' worth of property, as well as the killing or injuring of over 200 employees. Investigations regarding the causes of these explosions and subsequent fires have not proved conclusively what are the difficulties to be avoided. In eight cases the explosions are believed to have originated from the sparks produced in the machines during the grinding process. Tiny particles of gravel or metallic substances coming into contact with the plates of the machine may produce enough sparks to ignite the dust within the machine. Another possible cause for cereal dust explosions suggested is the use of naked flames.—Popular Science Monthly.

Air We Breathe.

Second-hand air is far worse than a second-hand toothbrush, yet many persons who would be horrified at the use of the latter are willing to inhale the air exhaled from other people's lungs.

The importance of good ventilation, where several people are sitting, cannot be over-emphasized. In prevailing air, remember that if two gas jets are burning they are consuming as much good air as four persons, and one kerosene lamp consumes the same amount. A lamp left with the flame turned down adds very much to the impurity of the air because of imperfect combustion. If you use a gas droplight and will remove the tubing for a test, you readily see from the odor of gas which escapes how necessary it is to take it down frequently and air it.

His Modest Position.

"I don't envy the men who manage the big hotels in the cities," gloomily said the landlord of the Petunia Tavern. "It is as much as I can do to make a bluff at keeping the peace between the little bunch of help I've got. Yesterday one of the two dining room girls said that the other one's best feller had two left feet, and in less than no time them two ladies had flew to it with catchup bottles and so forth. Just imagine the sightly function there would be in a hotel with seven hundred employees, all battling with bottles!"—Judge.

LAUNDRY HINTS OF VALUE

Easy Method of Getting Rid of Fruit
Stains—To Set Colors in Washable Goods.

A fruit stain on the best linen is a problem which many housewives find difficult to solve. There is a very good remedy in a paste made of soda and water, which when rubbed on the spot will restore the garment to its original color. If the spot is particularly stubborn hold it over a steaming kettle or allow the boiling water to run through it and it will quite disappear.

Often a careless maid will insist upon washing white and colored clothes together, much to the peril of the white garments. If the latter are injured by their contact with color, by holding in a soapy water to which a cupful of vinegar has been added, they should become white again.

A simple way to set colors in washable goods is by soaking them previous to washing in water, to which a little oxgall has been added. Almost a teaspoonful of oxgall to a gallon of water should be used.

Delicately colored socks and stockings are apt to fade in washing. If they are soaked for a night in a pail containing turpentine, then wrung out and dried, the colors will be set and they can afterward be washed without fading.

To remove troublesome spots from a garment try the yolk of an egg before washing. This is effective and not at all injurious to perishable colors.

Do not dry a silk garment after washing; instead, roll it up in a clean white cloth for about half an hour and iron it while damp.

CHERRY PIE AT ITS BEST

Time and Attention Given to This Delicious Dessert Will Be Found
Well Worth While.

It's all very well for nursery land Billy to say "She can make a cherry pie quicker'n a cat can wink her eye," but making cherry pies isn't quick, and even the pitting of the cherries is a tedious chore. Pitting cherries is one of those things best done by hand; there never was a pie made from machine-pitted cherries to compare in flavor with the ones squeezed out with her own fair fingers. It's like the meat chopper for chicken salad or juggled hare; the machine just spoils the taste and makes it like anybody's instead of "hers."

But she has got several wrinkles not possessed by grandma. For one thing, she brushes the very rich and paper-thin pie crust with which she lines the deep earthen pie dish, with white of egg. Then she slips it into a hot oven, after pricking it to keep it from blistering. Then come the cherries piled in by the fistful and the juice well mixed with sugar, so it is almost solid. And then atop the crust is also brushed over the under side with white of egg and pricked well to allow the steam to escape. The oven should be hot, but not scorching, and when the pie is a rich brown it's a dish for a king.

Care of Blankets.

Here is a satisfactory way of washing the blankets before putting them away for the summer: Slice half a cake of washing soap into two quarts of water; set in the stove and stir until dissolved. When dissolved, add cold water in a large tub. To this soapy water add four tablespoonfuls of powdered borax. Soak the blankets in this overnight. Then wash them in this water, rinse them twice in cold water, wring and hang on the line. This recipe will wash four blankets. Be sure and use only cold water, and they will come out as soft and beautiful as new. A teaspoonful of glycerin, added to the rinsing water, will improve them. Very heavy blankets may sometimes be cleaned by hanging them on the line, soaping and scouring them, and then turning the hose on them.

Frangipan Cream Pie.

Cut three circular pieces of paste nine inches in diameter, place on baking sheet, prick with fork and bake. Put together with Frangipan cream, for which mix two-thirds cupful of powdered sugar and one-third cupful flour, add yolks three eggs and one whole egg, slightly beaten, one-fourth teaspoonful salt and one cupful scalded milk and cook over hot water 15 minutes. Add two tablespoonfuls butter, two tablespoonfuls macaroons (dried and rolled), two-thirds teaspoonful vanilla and two-thirds teaspoonful lemon extract.

Cherry Pudding.

Stir a pinch of soda into a pint and a half of milk and add the yolks of four eggs, one cupful of sugar, one cupful of cherries, stoned, or a cupful of drained canned cherries. Slice stale bread and cut away the crusts; butter and cut into dice. Put layers of the bread dice and the custard into a well-buttered baking dish, set this in a pan of water in the oven and cook one hour. Eat with hot sauce.

Crystallized Mint Leaves.

Leave three leaves on each stem, then make the usual fondant sirup, but boil longer. Dip the leaves in the hot sirup, then spread carefully on buttered paper and set in a cool place to crystallize. They will retain the original mint flavor.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $50,000

Fire Destroys Co's. Property of Which Kee McKee is President.

The Oklahoma Refining Company at Oklahoma City, Okla., of which Kee R. McKee, formerly of this city, is president, suffered a $50,000 loss by fire last week. The shipping and storage department of the refinery was practically burned out. Six buildings consisting of warehouse, auto shed and cooperage shop were destroyed. Ten or twelve storage tanks, containing lubricating and other oils, each with a capacity of 8,000 to 12,000 gallons, were burned with their contents. Mr. McKee said shortly after the fire that he could not state the exact loss nor the amount of the insurance until the records in the main office were examined. He, however, estimated the loss from $45,000 to $50,000.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 13.—The Baptist Mission Boards lose $20,000 of the estate of W. H. Simmons, devised in trust by his brother S. M. Simmons, for their benefit by judgment of the Court of Appeals reversing the Jefferson Circuit Court in the case of S. M. Simmons, executor, against Mary Simmons Hunt and others.

The court also held that his nephews and nieces and not his grand-nephews and nieces, are residuary legatees of S. M. Simmons.

The $20,000 goes to the heirs of W. H. Simmons, who are G. W. Simmons, Mary Jane Meyer, Lizzie, George P. and W. H. Bohannon.

READY FOR REFUNDS

War Department Asks For Civilian Expense Applications.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The War Department has announced that it was prepared to receive applications for reimbursement of civilians who attended authorized military training camps during the present year. Congress appropriated $2,000,000 for this purpose. The announcement says application should be made direct to the auditor of the department, and that the cost of transportation to and from the camps and of uniforms and subsistence during training will be refunded.

It also was announced that in making payments to dependent families of national guardsmen and regulars, disbursement in the case of each soldier would be determined by the amount he contributed to the support of his family prior to his call into federal service. The statement says application for payment should be made to the depot quartermaster here direct, and concludes with this warning: "Settlement will not be hurried by the employment of any one to look after a claim."

THANKSGIVING BIRDS.

May Sell Ten Cents per Pound
Higher Than In 1915.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Thanksgiving turkey will cost 10 cents per pound more this year than it did last, according to the prediction of H. G. Peterson, a Chicago poultry man, attending the convention of the National Poultry, Butter and Egg Association here. He said there is a shortage of poultry and he believed turkeys would retail around 30 cents a pound.

HOMES WANTED!

We already have assurances that 350 to 400 doctors and 60 ladies will attend the State Medical Meeting here Oct. 24 to 27. Hotel accommodations have been obtained for about 400. Citizens who have relatives or friends among the expected visitors whom they would like to entertain, or such persons as are willing to open their homes to one or more, are requested to notify the Entertainment Committee. It would be well to write to friends and extend invitations in advance and advise the committee of acceptances. This will greatly aid us in providing accommodations for the hundreds of visitors.

F. P. THOMAS,
Chairman Hotel Committee.

On The Down Grade.

It seems the further Mr. Hughes goes the further he gets from the White House. His speeches have been evasive, fault finding and totally without constructive ideas. If he has an issue or a fixed program he has failed to take the people into his confidence. He straddles when it would be easier to be straightforward and instead of making a canvass worthy of the high office he seeks, he adopts the tactics of a candidate for constable. Owned by conflicting interests and fearful of offending any of them, he has had to keep on that narrow strip of land between the devil and the sea. Perhaps he is doing the best he can under the circumstances, but it does look like he has been weighed in the balances and found wanting. Let him, therefore, ana theme marana tha. Vote to keep the matchless Wilson on guard.

Must Have Good Cause to Fight.

President Wilson said at Omaha that America is as ready to fight as any nation, but its cause must be just. That's the thing. We must not be thrown into all the horrors of war to please the jingoes or to make speculation become remunerative. The country seems willing to leave it to President Wilson and there is every indication that he will be given four more years of power to keep it out of war with the honor that has attached to all his dealings with other nations.

FIVE MURDER TRUE BILLS

Returned by Hopkins County Grand Jury and 41
For Bootlegging.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 13.—The Hopkins county grand jury, which has been in session here since Monday, Sept. 25, adjourned Wednesday afternoon, after a very busy session. One hundred and twelve indictments were returned for various offenses, five being for wilful murder.

"Bootleggers" were hit hard by the jury. Judge Henderson, in his instructions to the jury at the convening of court, paid special attention to this form of law violation and as a result of the investigations forty-one indictments were returned. Several parties indicted have left the state. It is thought the practice has about been broken up here.

Over Confidence Dangerous.

While there is every indication that Kentucky will go for Wilson by a large majority the consummation devoutly to be wished can be accomplished only by every Democrat doing his full duty. The enemy is making strenuous efforts to win the prize, with money and other devices known to those who are not above doing anything to accomplish their purpose. Tainted money is being poured into the State and if it can seduce enough voters to change their allegiance the result may be problematical. Fortunately, however, the Republicans have little confidence that they can carry Kentucky even with Wall Street's aid, and are making the effort of their lives to hold even their own, as is shown by trotting candidate Hughes through the State again, much of it through the territory held by them, and of which they now seem in no wise certain. They are going to contest every inch of ground, however, and Democrats must be alert. Let eternal vigilance have full sway, and never say quit till a glorious victory is won. Stand on your arms and if you must sleep on them do it with one eye open and then we can exult with exceeding great exultation.
